

Terms and Conditions

1. By registering for this event, the participant enters into a contract with ETH Zurich. Verbal agreements are non-binding unless they are confirmed in writing by ETH Zurich.
2. ETH Zurich reserves all rights to withdraw the registration without explanation. The number of participants can be limited by ETH Zurich. Registrations will be considered in order of receipt.
3. The event details (program, registration fees and what is included in these fees, etc.) can be found on the event website (<https://www.ultraschall2022.ch/>). Should one of the invited speakers be unable to attend for any reason, ETH Zurich will endeavor to find an equivalent replacement and there will be no partial or full refund of the registration fee.
  - 4.1 The registration fee covers all conference activities held from June 29-July 1, 2022 as indicated on the event website (<https://www.ultraschall2022.ch/>). The costs for accommodation and travel are not covered by the registration fee.
  - 4.2 The payment of the registration fee has to be made online immediately after submitting the registration form. If proof of discount status is not provided or payment is not received, ETH Zurich reserves all rights to withdraw the registration or charge the price difference at onsite check-in.
  - 4.3 If the congress cannot be held on-site but only online (for example due to the Covid-19 pandemic), the congress fees will not be refunded but will remain valid for the online congress.
5. The participants will receive a confirmation email with a receipt and ticket for the event. The ticket must be presented at the welcome desk on-site, either electronically or as a printout. Additionally, every participant will receive a personalized event badge either per post prior to the event or upon presentation of the ticket at the welcome desk. This badge has to be worn and visible on the premises of ETH Zurich.
6. In case you are unable to attend, you may send a representative to attend in your stead, but you must inform us in writing (contact information can be found on the website <https://www.ultraschall2022.ch/>) on a timely basis before the start of the conference, latest by the 30th May 2022. Cancellations must be sent in writing. Applicable refunds will be processed after the event.
  - 7.1 All copyrights of the documentation delivered to the participants during the event remain with the individual authors. Reproduction, distribution or other use is only permitted with the written consent of the corresponding author.
  - 7.2 ETH Zurich presumes that the submitting author has obtained the consent of the co-authors for the presentation of their work at the event.
  - 7.3 The participants give their consent to the organisation committee for the use of photographs where the participant is visible, taken by organisation staff during the conference. The images may appear in websites owned by, publications produced by, and print advertisements introduced by ETH Zurich, SGUM, DEGUM or ÖGUM.
8. The event is carefully prepared and run by ETH Zurich. ETH Zurich assumes no liability for the timeliness, accuracy and completeness of the conference documentation and presentations.

9.1 Furthermore, ETH Zurich does not guarantee that the event website (<https://www.ultraschall2022.ch/>) is free from errors. It also does not guarantee that the website works without interruptions or disruptions. It assumes no liability for any damage, whether foreseeable or not (including loss of profit), arising from the use of the site or the partial or total impossibility of its use.

9.2 ETH Zurich cannot be held liable for damages that are attributed to the internet connection (for example, in the case of interruptions, long waiting times when the page is called, or when filing the application). The participant confirms that he is familiar with the security risks associated with communication over the Internet.

10. ETH Zurich cannot be held liable for any loss of and/or damage to the private property of participants during the conference.

11. All legal relationships between the participant and ETH Zurich are subject to Swiss law. The courts of the City of Zürich are responsible for assessing all disputes arising from this legal relationship.